These are close ups of the projections the Artists Meeting group did for the September 2007 dumbo arts festival. The projections are onto the side of the manhattan bridge using two 30,000 lumens projectors. Lara Star Martini is wearing a portable honeytone belt clip amplifier. the sound mix for the projections was playing through these amplifiers. Lara was one of eight people with belt clip amplifiers who walked around during the projections. {gallery}dumbopix_4{/gallery}
