

test the Olga blog

Olga Lysenko is a Ukrainian-born cross-disciplinary artist living and working in New York. A painter by trade, she is currently working in the fields of installation art and interior design: By day, she creates environments for upscale residences and showrooms. By night, she frankensteins art production machines and executes events, installations and exhibits. Olga's work has included projects such as El Museo Del Barrio, The Dreamland Gala, a product development project for LG Electronics and the Jazz-Age Lawn Party. Through Artists' Meeting, she has developed an interest in video installation art.
